So it shouldn't surprise anybody or deeply shock anybody, except the few G. O. P. boys still scattered through congress, if Pennsylvania and Missouri and certain other states should so right on getting plenty out of the treasury for continued relief work on behalf of Senator Guffey and Mr. Pendergast and such-like benefac as of the human race. Not that the ins are any greedier than the outs: they've merely improved in sagacity since the days when nearly all the smart wolves seemed to be Democrats.

But Passamaquoddy might as well make up its mind to being sort of neglected from now on. Maine, she ain't been actin' right.

Pledges of curtailment in governmental expenditures, as emanating from White House sources, are undoubtedly sincere. But Andy Jackson or Captain Kidd or whoever it was first coined the line, expressed the correct idea when he said that to the victor belonged the spoils—and not to let them spoil too long either.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 .- (AP)-A sharp decrease in steam railroad trackage in the last five years was shown today, but the roads prepared for the best prospective business year since pre-depression days.

Incomplete reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission indi-cated that total trackage abandoned in 1936 equaled and probably ex-ceeded the 1,974 miles deserted by the carriers the year before.

The tracks of all steam roads totaled 241.822 miles at the beginning of 1936, a decline of more than 7,000 miles from 1930. To meet increased competition and changing transportation condi-tions, the roads have expended vast sums on high-speed locomotives and modernized trains.

UNDERWOOD ENJOINS U. S. FROM COLLECTION OF FOOTBALL TAXES SPECIALS

Judge Rules Operation of Games Is Governmental Function of State.

The federal government was enjoined from collecting taxes on admissions to football games from the state-sup-ported University of Georgia and the Georgia School of Technology in a ruling yesterday by Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood.

Regents of the University System filed suit to prevent Internal Revenue Collector W. E. Page from collecting $4,180 in taxes for the 1934 sesson. $4,180 in taxes for the 1934 season. Another suit, seeking return of $20,-148 collected in 1933, is pending.

Following a previous hearing Judge Underwood denied an injunction and his decision was reversed by the fifth circuit court of appeals.

In ordering the injunction today Judge Underwood ruled operation of athletic programs and contests for which admission was charged to be "under the decision of the court of appeals in this case, an essential governmental function of the state of Georgie"

Judge Underwood's decision will not end the battle over the collection of football taxes, however. The next move is for the government to appeal the whole argument back to the cir-cuit court of appeals where it will be opinions," declared Fulton county commissioners at yesterday's reorganization meeting of the board. Shown above, as they pledged co-operation to the new board chairman, Commissioner J. A. Ragsdale, and prom-cuit court of appeals where it will be fought out on its merits and either side that loses up there will move on up to the United States supreme court with another appeal. Judge Underwood's action was just one leg on a long legal journey.

When the case was argued before Judge Underwood, closing arguments drew debate on whether football is a business or a part of the educational system of the state. Counsel for the University System contended athletic University System contended athletic associations were a function of the state institutions and therefore entitled to exemption. Summing up the case, M. H. Eustace, special assistant attorney general, said it was important "because we have 48 states and several large state educational institutions . .

whose teams play before huge crowds.
Test Case.

"The government wants to know whether it is entitled to this tax, and educational institutions have a right to know whether they will have to be taxed.

"This case undoubtedly will be the first to reach the supreme court, and until that time there is no way to determine the constitutionality of the tax."
Eustace, in asking Judge Underwood

to dismiss the suit, argued that evidence showed football players "are men hired specifically to play football and with flowers sent by friends of the not to make good marks in history or English."

The senate banking committee, in addition to handling legislation regulating the country's banking structure, also is interested in such matters as credit. Recent heavy gold imports, increasing the nation's credit basis, have brought that topic to the fore.

Extension of the Reconstruction Corporation's lending power also normally would be handled by Wagner's maintee.

Department heads will be urged to eliminate as many employes as possible so as to lighten the pay cuts the other employes will have to take, such as the remployes will have to take, such as the remployes will have to take and yould save $55,000 per year or would have $25 more men on duty each day as the result.

Chairman Gilliam said in his opinion a revision of license fees by the legislature, should it pass, will bring in some $350,000 additional revenue to the city but the committee could not consider this in making up its finance sheet.

It was also brought out that if the state assumes a part of the bur-den of public service rendered by the city the financial balance can be deficit, which was one of his campaign pledges.

The 1937 budget is balanced at $8,-951,000, which figure represents some $525,000 less than proposed appropriations that had been "cut to the bone." To balance, the 10 and 20 per cent cuts were made in salaries.

District Awards.

In addition there will be a $250 award for the county in each of the ten congressional districts of Georgia which leads all other counties in that district, and no county winning one of the first three awards will be eligible for a district award. Thus every county in Georgia will have an equal chance, an equal opportunity to win one of the awards. Co-operation of county commissioners and citizens in evolving programs has been asked by many leading Georgians in order that the county governments of Georgia may reap maximum benefits from the awards.

In many counties, commissioners already have called on citizens to cooperate and assist in evolution of a "winning program."

The question asked is:

Significant Facts About This Statement

Banks and their operations are always sensitive barometers which show economic trends. Since we, as a nation, appear to have turned the much discussed "corner" I was interested in analyzing this statement. Certain significant facts stand out in comparison with the figures of Dec., 1935.

First-Deposits increased nearly ten million dollars. This is important as indicative of the fact that money is coming into or being created in the Southeast and particularly Georgia.

Second-Loans increased ten million dollar. Banks have been making every effort to lend money. Finally the demand has come, indicating that business and the individual have confidence to the extent that they are willing to contract obligations, to expand and plan for the future.

Third-Surplus and undivided profits increased three hundred thousand dollars. This means a larger, stronger, safer bank because that surplus added to the capital is the depositor's protection, apart from good management. In itself, it suggests good management.

Fourth-Cash on hand decreased three million dollars, indicating the ability of the bank management to find sound loans and safe investments which create earning power for the money.

These are significant and reassuring facts which should stimulate all of us to feel that with level heads and earnest efforts we can look forward to better, sounder and more prosperous conditions.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The President's message, though relatively brief, is packed with intimations. No specific recommendations are made, but between the lines, as in them, there is discernible a program which may cause misgivings in some quarters, but which is perhaps only the logical sequel to the overwhelming mandate of last November.

The message is serious in tone, especially in its references to the part the supreme court plays, or he believes should play, in the evolving life of the United States.

Fortunately, the statue at the entrance of New York harbor is not a mockery. More than ever, that torch is illuminating the world.

The amount of research and study carried on in the United States is enormous. I do not think that there is another place on earth where there are so many young people freely and independently discussing and delving into the great fundamental problems confronting humanity. The youths of Germany and Russia and Italy are not less idealistic, to be sure. PAWNING Mr. Roosevelt put the state of the nation before a con gressional audience which has changed a lot since he last addressed it. Last session, the elder legislators went off in a corner to weep collectively because he barely mentioned a constitutional amend-ment. Now they are freely making surmises that this might be the best way to effect minimum wages and maximum hours.

Several things have developed to reopen their minds. The election is over, for one thing. No politician need be cagey this year. Such talk likewise keeps the wage-hour issue boiling, and the steam may be no-ticed by the supreme court justices, who are shortly to render controlling decisions.

However, there is another, deeper reason. The half-dozen leaders who do the thinking for congress have been more worried than they would publicly confess about the auto strike. They wonder what continuance of that method of improving hours and wages will mean to the

A third secretary will be chosen to fill Louis Howe's place first.

That responsibility was a grave thing, and I cannot understand any reasoning by which it may now be atoned with the blood of the betrayed. Those who know say that Early, like Securities and Exchange Chairman Landis, put loyalty above personal desire. Thereby hang two tales. One is the devotion of the old Roosevelt crowd to him personally. They seem to have a more respectful attachment to him than a dutiful son owes a father. The other story concerns the dozens of minor officials who have been leaving the government since election to go into private business, some of them not being particularly choosey about where they go.

FAVORS Some anthorities were amazed to note the friendly gesture of Mexico toward the United States' neutrality program.

They knew something was wrong somewhere. In view of Mexico's proximity to the Spanish government, the inner consensus seems to be that Mexico is expecting some internal trouble of her own shortly. Dis-

The most significant point about that is the Mexican army rifle is the same as the United States and uses the same ammunition. They may need some before long. NEWS Mr. Roosevelt has not lost his sense of humor. He greeted newsmen the other day with the observation: "You people

Had occasion, yesterday, to get down the file of The Constitution for 1883. Inside, folded in the age-yellow paper, found two letters, both dated January 15, 1891, written by J. T. Waterman, of Hawkinsville, Ga.. on letterheads of The Hawkinsville Dispatch and News, of which publication Mr. Waterman was one of the proprietors.

They were addressed to C. C. Nichols, business manager of The Southern Farm, a monthly publication of Atlanta. They complained bitterly about a subscription to the Southern Farm, of 80 cents, which seemed to have gone astray. Mr. Waterman had sent it in, the paper to be delivered to J. J. Watkins, of Hawkinsville. And the paper hadn't been received. Mr. Wa-

Third, his uncompromising loyalty to the leading of the Holy Spirit. His "Helps to Holiness," perhaps his best known, book, breathes the atmosphere of the Spirit's acknowledged raise. "J. T. Waterman, Esq. "Hawkinsville, Ga." "Hawkinsville, Ga.

"Hawkinsville, Ga.

"Dear Sir:

"We regret you have been placed to so much trouble over Mr. Watkins' subscription. The Constitution received this—"

There it ends.

This letter was on a letterhead of The Southern Farm, which carried small lithographs, at each corner, of Henry W. Grady and Dr. W. L. Jones. It is stated that Grady was the founder of the publication. Dr. Jones, editor; James R. Holliday, treasurer, and C. C. Nichols, business manager.

There was, also with these aged documents, the stamped envelope, addressed to "Mr. J. T. Waterman, Hawkinsville, Ga." which had never been used. The two-cent stamp is quite unsullied.

the national magazine of the Knights of Columbus, sends me a proof of an article on Communism and Fascism, with reference to this country, by Father Wilfird Parsons, the Jesuit writer. It is troublesome business to attempt to summarize a story on which the author has spent thought and care, and I will not try. But it seems to me fair to report that Father Parsons, says in conclusion, that Fascism is the reaction of the middle-class to the menace of Communism, not an end No matter how greatly he is wronged or cheated or imposed upon, an innocent citizen cannot go into court with empty hands and obtain

Unless he is willing to suffer for a principle, he must often choose to endure his wrongs in silence because the cost of justice is greater than the loss he suffers for want of it. The law does not recognize the private citizen. He must employ a lawyer to speak for him. Thus lawyers have a monopoly of justice, and the price of justice is the fee they charge.

They have legal standing as officers of the court. They are the priests of justice, through whom the layman must voice his appeal. Like the Levites and the samurai, they are a superior class—the advocates, protectors and guardians of the people and their only shield against wrong and injustice and tyranny. Not by design, but by the slow development and entrenchment of custom, those who make the law their trade have become the professional guardians of human rights and the sole support and hope of Like the King's Guard, they are our first and last defense. If they are corrupted, no hope remains. Their treachery is blackest because their trust is greatest. Usually the members of an honored class Jealously guard the reputation of their order; but many lawyers, unable to survive in honest competition, sell out to the enemies of society, and nothing is done about it.

A feeling of group loyalty, common to us all, prompts honest lawyers to protect the rogues. They seem to regard lay criticism of shysters as criticism of their calling, and they make themselves allies of the shysters to rebuke the critics. That attitude isn't fair. For laymen are at the mercy of lawyers, yet any cleansing of the bar must be done by the lawyers themselves. Surely the governed, having no representation in the governing body, have at least the right to protest its harboring of rogues.

a national chain, on the unique topic of health. At least that is what the talks purported to concern. I can't remember now what, if anything, I said about health. I do remember some of the many things the bright young man (some protege of the man who owned the air) who censored my manuscript specifically forbade me to mention. One was the way to break the constipation habit. Another was a description of the way respiratory infections are commonly spread in the conversational spray. It seemed that women and children were likely to listen to radio programs and the dear things must hear nothing unpleasant, only pretty fairy tales. Now, if I could get my odd notions about such things over the in the guise of funny stories or little dramas or something like that, so that listeners would not take it too seriously, well and good. But the unvarnished truth, no. It was far too depressing.

They can use the conversational space of the many who own the said of the day he will probably marry) the Carole Lombard role and—here is the big news—presented the part spurned by Raft to John Trent, who is now staking his claim to it with a series of tests.

"You and Me" is about a boy and As to whether godlessness, of itself, is deplorable there is difference of opinion. My own view is that every man's soul is his own concern, and that if he does not believe in a hereafter or God, that is his right, if also his hard luck. The Christian religion, however, takes the position that the faith of the individual who does not have faith should be quarted by those faith of the individual who does not have faith should be guarded by those appointed and sworn to this duty. Father Parsons has not condoned the failure of the shepherds, but Fascism undertakes to redeem their crime against Christianity by killing the flock. Boys and gris and even some adolescents who still follow the ways of youth can and should take pie a lamode or ice cream straight or pudding or cake or whatever dessert they like to top off a dinner. I see no distinction between the killing of a desperate man driven wild by oppression and want and the killing of a member of a religious order. But if there is any distinction, obviously the consecrated person, being in a state of grace, is better prepared to die than the frantic infidel. And, so far as one may judge by the early accounts of savage atrocity in Spain, the methods of killing were as vicious on one side as on the other, but in the slaughter of priests and nuns in Spain, the blame again seems to me to go back to the original offenders, and I think their offense needs elaboration as to names, titles, official position and practices. Old parties, speaking physiologically and not just chronologically, may have the appetite or desire for the superfluous sweets, the excess nutriment represented by dessert after a meal, or they may resort to one means or another of whipping up the appetite to include the burden of dessert with a meal that already loads the diges-tion and metabolism to or above ca-pacity. But they invariably pay for the excess, not by immediate distress the excess, not by immediate distress as the nostrum monger would have prospective purchasers of his digestive pills imagine, but, by excessive wear and tear on the arteries, the kidneys, the heart, the adrenal system and the islands of Langerhans that produce insulin in the pancreas. These old parties, whether 18 or 48 years in age, are prematurely aged and worn out in the first place because they cultivate the ways of age and try to make If we knew who were the friends of Christianity who threw down their solemn duty, and just what they did and failed to do, we could consider that phase of the case more intelligently. Up to now we have details of the terror which caused the Fascist reaction, but only generalities as to the oppression which caused the Communical section. Correction It is said that Communism breaks out in its violent form, as in Spain, only when the people have been prepared for it by exploitation, poverty and ignorance inflicted on them by their masters. Communism is like a souffle. The timing and ingredients must be absolutely perfect or the result is Fascism.

Father Parsons views with alarm the propagation of Communism in this contry. My own alarm is less active, but I agree that the movement is insidious and persistent. I do not agree, however, that there is a choice between the evils of Communism and Fascism, and I view with almost equal alarm his contention that there is.

Wilkie's case, when submitted December 16, Frank said, contained five personal criticisms which could have been answered at once, but the basic charge that the administration has been ineffective and incompetent demanded time for an adequate reply, time which "has not been given."

Frank said he would answer Wilkie as far as he could, but wished a few more days to make a factual analysis of the university's accomplishments.

Replying to the charge that he lacked understanding of internal affairs of the university, the president said Wisconsin's "distinguished achievements over the last 11 years would have been impossible had this understanding been lacking."

KING RANCH HEIRS WRANGLE IN COURT

Mismanagement of Vast Texas Domain Charged; Receiver Asked.

HOUSTON. Texas, Jan. 6.—(P)— Heirs to the King ranch, the nation's largest cattle domain and a pioneer in the successful breeding of fine stock, are wrangling in court over the millions of dollars' worth of prop-millions of dollars' worth of property.

Charging mismanagement by the trustees, Edwin K. Atwood and Alice B. Atwood, of Chicago, grandchildren of the late Captain Richard King, founder of the vast ranch in south Texas, petitioned federal court to appoint a receiver.

Spokesmen for the trustees said the million-acre ranch was in better condition than at any time since Captain King, steamboat pilot and War Between the States blockade runner on the Rio Grande, established it in 1852.

The heirs also asked an accounting on the handling of the part of the estate left in trust by the will of Mrs. King, who died in 1925, and Judge ing, who died in 1925, and Judge Wilmer Hunt, of Houston, was named master in chancery to take evidence. Hearings will continue indefinitely. Hearing on a petition for a receiver was postponed until February 9 after Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly raised the question of his jurisdiction.

Arrest of Trio Follows Three-Day Period of Watchful Waiting.

Watchful waiting by city detectives was climaxed early yesterday morning by the capture of two burglar suspects in a house at 478 1-2 Capitol avenue. A third suspect was taken into custody yesterday after-

The suspects were listed as Charles McDonald, 26, of Austell; Spence Bedford, of the Capitol avenue address, and James Kryder, 26, of 1018

West Peachtree street, who was charged with suspicion of burglary and safe-blowing. The others were charged with suspicion of burglary. Detectives S. W. Roper and H. L. Sexton reported to Detective Lieutenant C. E. McCrary, who also worked on the investigation, that they went to the Capitol avenue house at about midnight following a three-day surveillance.

As Sexton remained in an automobile. Roper hid in the house. Three hours later, they reported, McDonald and Bedford drove up in a mud-spattered automobile. Both were armed and both wore cotton gloves. McDonald, according to the report, carried a small kit allegedly containing burglar tools, and a small bottle of nitroglycerine.

into the house, and rejoined his comrade.

Kryder was taken into custody yesterday afternoon at the Capitol avenue address, where, the detectives said, a quantity of merchandise allegedly stolen last Saturday night from the Barnes Brothers general store at Mabelton was recovered.

Under Bedford's bed, said the detectives, a strong box was found. This was identified by Miss Mary Wheeles as property of the Georgia Beverage Company, 490 Highland avenue, from where $422 in cash was taken from the safe in a robbery last December 3.

The detectives also said a confectioner named Ana Gostis, of 174 Whitehall street, was sold cigarets and tobacco allegedly taken from the Mabelton store.

10 NEGROES ARE HELD

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—(P)—Police of suburban Brentwood held ten negroes today in an investigation of the alleged extortion o fabout $2,000 from a 14-year-old white high school girl, Leona Finer, during the past two months.

The girl, a laughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Finer, disclosed payment to the negroes when Ben Finer, her brother, told police large sums of money had been disappearing from a tayern he operates.

he operates. f of Police Fred O. Lain quoted the girl as saying she had been threat-ened with death by several negroes unless she obtained money for them. Chief Lain said the girl told him a negro approached her several months ago and handed her a note demanding money and threatening her if she gave any information to police. Lain said the girl became so frightened she did not tell her parents.

Nor was the recovery we sought merely a purposeless whirring of ma-chinery. It is important, of course, that every man and woman in the country be able to find work, that every factory run, that business as a whole earn profits. But government in a democratic nation does not exist solely, or even primarily, for that sonal liberty which does not adversely affect their neighbors, and to pursue the happiness which comes with security and an opportunity for recreation and culture.

FOR TENANT FARMERS

Even with our present recovery we are far from the goal of that deeper purpose. There are farreaching problems still with us for which democracy must find solutions if it is to consider itself successful. For example, many millions of Americans still live in habitations which not only fail to provide the physical benefits of modern civilization but breed disease and impair the health of future generations. The menace exists not only in the slum areas of the very large cities, but ip many smaller cities as well. It

It is my belief that under this constitutional practice, the President should in every fourth year, in so far as seems reasonable, review the existing state of our national affairs and outline broad future problems, leaving specific recommendations for future legislation to be made by the President about to be inaugurated.

That challenge we met. To meet it required unprecedented activities under federal leadership—to end under federal leadership—to end abuses—to restore a large measure of material prosperity—to give new faith to millions of our citizens who had been traditionally taught to expect that democracy would provide continuously wider opportunity and continuously greater security in a world where science was continuously making material riches more available to man.

WE HELPED TO MAKE DEMOCRACY SUCCEED

In the many methods of attack with which we met these problems, you and I, by mutual understanding and by determination to co-operate, helped to make democracy succeed by refusing to permit unnecessary disagreement to arise between two of our branches of government. That spirit of co-operation was able to solve difficulties of extraordinary magnitude and ramification with few important errors, and at a cost cheap when measured by the immediate necessities and the eventual results.

necessities and the eventual results. I look forward to a continuance of that co-operation in the next four years. I look forward also to a continuance of the basis of that co-operation—mutual respect for each other's proper sphere of functioning in a democracy which is working well, and a common-sense realization of the need for play in the joints of the machine.

On that basis, it is within the right of the congress to determine which of the many new activities shall be continued or abandoned, increased or

On that same basis, the President alone has the responsibility for their administration. I find that this task of executive management has reached the point where our administrative machinery needs comprehensive over-hauling. I shall, therefore, shortly address the congress more fully in regard to modernizing and improving the executive branch of the govern-

GOVERNMENT'S INTEREST TO PROTECT PRICE SCALE

Overproduction, underconsumption and speculation are three evil sisters who distill the troubles of unsound inflation and disastrous deflation. It is to the interest of the nation to have government help private enter-prise to gain sound general price levels and to protect those levels from wide perilous fluctuations. We know now that if early in 1931 government had taken the steps which were taken two or three years later, the depression would never have reached the depths of the beginning of 1933.

Sober second thought confirms most of us in the belief that the broad objectives of the National Recovery Act were sound. We know now that its difficulties arose from the fact that if tried to do too much. For example, it was unwise to expect the same agency to regulate the length of working hours, minimum wages, child labor and collective bargaining on the one hand and the complicatel ques-tions of unfair trade practices and The recovery we sought was not to be merely temporary. It was to be a recovery protected from the causes of previous disasters. purpose.

It is not enough that the wheels turn. They must carry us in the direction of a greater satisfaction in life for the average man. The deeper purpose of democratic government is to assist as many of its citizens as possible—especially those who need it most—to improve their conditions of life, to retain all personal liberty which does not admirable and scant regard to state lines. DON'T NEED CHANGE

During the past year there has been a growing belief that there is little fault to be found with the constitution of the United States as it stands today. The vital need is not an alteration of our fundamental law, but an increasingly enlightened view with reference to it. Difficulties have grown our of its interpretations have grown out of its interpretation; but rightly considered, it can be used as an instrument of progress, and not device for prevention of action.

It is worth our while to read and re-read the preamble of the constitu-tion, and Article I thereof which con-fers the legislative powers upon the congress of the United States. It is also worth our while to read again the debaters in the constitutional con-vention of 150 years ago. From such reading, I obtain the very definite thought that the members of that convention were fully aware that covilization would raise problems for the proposed new federal government, which they themselves could not even surmise; and that it was their definite intent and expectation that a liberal interpretation in the years come would give to the congress the same relative powers over new na-tional problems as they themselves gave to the congress over the national problems of their day. In presenting to the convention the first basic draft of the constitution, Edmund Randolph explained that it was the purpose "to insert essential principles only, lest the operation of government should be clogged by rendering those provisions permanen and unalterable which ought to be accommodated to times and events."

With a better understanding of our

The nation would be wise to offer them that chance instead of permitting them to go along as they do now, year after year, with neither future security as tenants nor hope of ownership of their homes nor expectation of bettering the lot of their children. purpose, and a more intelligent recognition of our needs as a nation, it is not to be assumed that there will be prolonged failure to being legislation. prolonged failure to bring legislative and judicial action into closer harmony. Means must be found to adapt Another national problem is the intelligent development of our social security system, the broadening of the services it renders, and practical our egal forms and our judicial in-terpretation to the actual present na-tional needs of the largest progressive Democracy in the modern world.

That thought leads to a consideration of world problems. To go no further back than the beginning of this century, men and women everywhere were seeking conditions of life very different from those which were unstomary before modern investigations. the services it renders, and practical improvement in its operation. In many nations where such laws are in effect, success in meeting the expectations of the community has come through frequent amendment of the original statute.

And, of course, the most farreaching and the most inclusive problem of all is that of unemployment and the lack of economic balance of which unemployment is at once the result and the symptom. The immediate question of adequate relief for the needy unemployed who are capable of performing useful work, I shall discuss with the congress during the coming months. The broader task of preventing unemployment is a matter of long-customary before modern invention and modern industry and modern communications had come into being. The World War, for all of its tragedy, encouraged these demands, and stimulated action to fulfill these new desires. new desires. Many national governments seemed unable adequately to respond; and, often with the improvident assent of the masses of the people themselves, new forms of government were set up with oligarchy taking the place of Democracy. In cligarchies, militarism has leapt forward, while in those nations which have retained Democracy, militarism has waned.

I have recently visited three of our sister republics in South America. The very cordial receptions with which I was greeted were in tribute to Democracy. To me the outsanding observation of that visit was that the waves of the peoples of all the the masses of the peoples of all the Americas are convinced that the Democratic form of government can be made to succeed and do not wish to substitute for it any other form of government. They believe that Democracies are best able to cope with the changing problems of modern civilization within themselves,

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

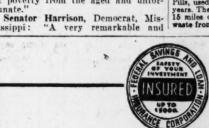

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of these gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffinessunder theeyes, headaches and disainess.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood, Get Doan's Pills.

SPEAKING OF GAMENESS.

We were speaking of gameness-

"Gamest thing I ever saw was a dog," said Joe Hightower. "Come to think of it, it wasn't a dog but a hound."

Major Trammel Scott, who was bending in an ear, drew back in alarm. "Hounds?" he said. "You around hounds?" "I am a bird dog man," said Joe Hightower, "but I must admit the gamest thing I ever saw was a hound.
It was a deer hound, at that. His name was Trouble."
"Let me get this straight," said one of his listeners.

"Is this a dog yarn or the truth?" 'This," said Joe Hightower with dignity, "is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

"Go on, then." "This hound named Trouble belongs to Cliff Bazemore, down at Sylvania, Ga. Down there in the deer country, Sylvania is.

"We went down there to hunt and we pulled up in Cliff's yard late Sunday afternoon. He met us.

"'Too bad you didn't get here yesterday,' he said. 'We had a good hunt. And I lost my best hound. That Trouble hound of mine. He hasn't come back yet.'

WE SAT AROUND FOR A WHILE.

"We sat around for a while," said Joe Hightower. "And all of a sudden I saw a hound limping up the road. And sure enough it was Trouble.

'He had been caught in a steel trap and the whole ball of his right foot bad been torn off. The foot was swollen and in bad shape. Cliff fed him but he wouldn't eat much. He locked him up in a crib with some water

"We got up way early the next morning and before day Giants Finish 1-2. we were stopped at a little cafe about five miles up the road getting something to eat before turning off to the deer country. "When we came out there sat Trouble.

"Well, we put him in the car and went on. We couldn't go back. Somehow he had got that crib door open. And that morning he led the other hounds in the hunt. He has a great voice. Sounds like a bloodhound. And we could hear him leading the hounds.

"He came in with the rest of them a little after noon. He took a little water. We felt bad about it but he wouldn't stay tied up. So he hunted that afternoon and led 'em again.

"We took him on home and the next morning Cliff tied him in the crib with a piece of plow line. And we drove off."

AND WHEN WE CAME OUT.

"And," said Joe Hightower, "when we came out of the cafe five miles down the road, there he sat. So we took him on. He hunted that day. He came in about dead. Wouldn't take a thing. I put a lot of milk in a quart coffee cup and moistened his mouth with it. Pretty soon he ate some of it. He ate two quarts of that stuff.

"And that afternoon, when the hounds started off, he couldn't get up. But later on they made a circle and came back by the camp. And he joined them. I saw the deer wasn't going to pass my stand, so I ran down to try and head them off.

I saw Trouble take off from the high bank of a road, light in the middle of it and then make the other bank with one leap.

They ran that deer to the river and he swam away from them. The hounds came in but we had to go down and pick Trouble up off the river bank,

'We brought him in and the only reason I didn't sleep with Trouble and hold him in my arms was that I had to leave that night. Man, that dog, pardon me, hound, was game.

"What happened to him?"

"He got all right. He's still hunting deer."

GAMENESS OR INSTINCT.

"That," said one of the listeners, "is not gameness. It is "Listen," said another, "if your foot has been pulled out of a steel trap and the bottom of the foot torn off, what hurts, your foot or your instinct? It's heart, that's what it is. It's gameness. And not instinct."

"A hound is gamer than a bird dog anyhow," said one of the party. "I've seen fox hounds do things no bird dog would think of doing."

There was a sound of heavy breathing. The bird dog men were looking around, seeing what was handy to hand.

So, I left. I didn't care to get back to the office with black eye or a swollen nose. No one believes those things can happen in a bird dog-hound argument. But I hope no one was hurt. The hound man was outnumbered and maybe I should have stayed.

National League Offers Tighter Race With Balanced Clubs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 .- (A)-A year penant race among five and possibly six clubs, appears in store for the National baseball league in 1937.

As the hot-stovers begin to disband their winter proceedings and groun-keepers start readying training camps for the southern invasion, those two factors loom above all others, notwith-standing such sidelights as Dizzy Dean's war of words with the Cardinals, other threatened holdouts and the New York Giants' chances of repeating their miracle. peating their miracle.

There seems little reason to doubt There seems little reason to doubt that the large crowds which skyrocketed major league baseball far out of the red last year won't be back. GIANTS WEAKER.

The Giants are definitely regarded as a weaker club than the one which staged its amazing climb to win the '36 pennant. As a result, the 1937 title chase shapes up as anybody's affair, with the strengthen-ed Cardinals and the dangerous Chi-cago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates as cago Cuos and Pittsourgh Pirates as the standouts, and the now experienc-ed "kid team" at Cincinnati also rated a possibility. And you can pretty well put the Boston Bees down as the "dark horse," while the Phillies and Dodgers again look to be the "weak sisters."

with the exception of Casey Stengel at Brooklyn, whose job is being taken over by tobacco-chewing Burleigh Grimes, all the managers will be back at the old stand. However, the ranks of those who play as well as pilot will be considerably thinned. Bill Terry's first-basing days with the Giants are definitely over. Charley Grimm should see little, if any, infield duty at Chicago. Frankie Frisch is duty at Chicago. Frankie Frisch is no longer the Fordham flash in the St. Louis infield, and it is doubtful if

With Terry on the bench for keeps and the aging Travis Jackson managing the club's International league farm of Jersey City, the Giants' infield needs rebuilding. At the same time, the chances of Carl Hubbell's repeating his remarkable 1936 pitching record are questionable and there. ng record are questionable and, therefore, he'll need plenty of help from a hurling troupe that looked none too good in '36.

This department likes the Pirates This department likes the Pirates to succeed Bill Terry's troupe as pennant winners. The Bucs are due to snap out of it, after three years of kicking chances away. The addition of Dutch Brandt from Brooklyn gives an already well-rounded pitching staff a needed first-rate left-hander, thus adding better balance on a team that, on paper, has been potential pennant timber since 1934.

The addition of Lon Werneke from the Cubs eliminates to a large extent the Cubs eliminates to a large extent the major weakness of the Cards last year. The 16 games he won in 1936, if repeated, will be a big help to a pitching staff that was largely Dizzy Dean a year ago.

Terry Will Wager

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—Big Bad Bill Terry is sweet William now. "Tough guy" of the major leagues, Terry was rolling in good cheer to-day. He was in town to see his pal Travis Jackson installed as manager of the Giants' New Jersey City farm, and he had more plans, predictions. and ideas than a Broadway press agent.

First of all, predictions:

"I've offered to bet good hard cashwe'll finish one-two, but I don't hear any takers.

"We'll be faster, and younger, and I think we'll be better. In addition to the Cards, Cubs, and Pirates, the Reds should be knocking at the door Reds should be knocking at the door this year. The Bees will also be im-proved, and the others should be about the majors be permitted to carry two promising first-year men in addition to their regular 23. These two must never have been in the majors before."

Terry said he was feeling great, and when Jackson asked him what players the Giants would give Jersey City, Bill cracked:

men signed.

Terry said he didn't, but added, "I know things are goona be tough for you guys in the next month, so we'll arrange a couple of holdouts just for fun."

When it came time to predict where the Dodgers will finish, Terry said:
"Better be careful this time, hadn't 1?" Then he added he didn't think Burleigh Grimes had improved his club with his winter trading.

All this completed, the astonished scribes blinked at their notes and went away grinning.

Giants Purchase Tommy Thevenow.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—The New York Giants today announced the purchase of Infielder Tommy Therenow from the Cincinnati Reds, Therenow will be assigned the utility role filled last season by Mark Koeniz, who was given his unconditional release. Therenow batted 236 in 106 rames last year and played at second games last year and played at second base, shortstop and third base.

proved, and the others should be about the same."

And now, his plans:

"Hank Leiber will play center field. I still think he will be a great ball player. Lou Chiozza will take Jackson's place at third, and Johnny McCarthy will be at first. I think I'll put myself on the voluntary retired list this week.

"I have two deals on the fire. I need a catcher and an infielder. I need a catcher and an infielder. I need a catcher and an infielder. I stopped off at Cincinnati on my way to New York and tried to make a deal with Warren Giles for Ernie Lombardi or Virgil Davis. Giles wanted Leiber, but so do I.

"If Chiozza doesn't go at third, I may try Mel Ott there and move Jimmy Ripple over to right."

And here's his idea:
"I've suggested that each club in the majors be permitted to carry two promising first-year men in addition to their regular 23. These two must never have been in the majors before."

Terry said he was feeling seed to that sissy yell stop.

Hagen appeared in the semi-final when Davis beat Blue Sun Jennings in the final 1936 show. After winning from another villain, Babe Zaharias, Hagen viewed and scorned Davis' villainous ways, and right then and there asked for a shot at the giant Ohioan.

Primarily it looms as a match between Hagen's science and Davis' power and rough tactics, but Hagen probably didn't spend ix years in the marines for nothing, and is no powder-puff type of matman. Apparently he thinks well of his chances to combat Davis' style else he would quarter-finals of the Miami Biltmore championships.

Playing the same relentless, forcing brand of tennis that has carried hims through three matches with the loss of only one game, the New Jersey schoolboy today added Lewis Duff, of Quebec, Canadian junior champion, to his growing list of victims.

Parker was joined in the round of eight by Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, of Atlanta, the nation's No. 3 ranking player; defending Champion Charles Harris, of West Palm Beach; Art Hendrix, of Lakeland: Ricardo Morales, of Havana; Gardner Mulloy, of Miami, and Wayne Sabin, of Los Angeles.

When he entered the Garden and stood in the spotlight, he was rated a 3-1 underdog. Vines, who had ruled the professional world for two years, was considered virtually certain of victory.

But it was the Britisher who performed like a champion tonight. Vines was ragged. Perhaps it was because of lack of practice before the match, or because of Ellsworth's illness—which he had described during the past couple of days as "nervous indigestion."

Lanky Ellsworth had suffered a similar attack of indigestion before his players into the ruled.

Hendrix, of Lakeland: Ricardo Morales, of Havana; Gardner Mulloy, of Miami, and Wayne Sabin, of Los Angeles.

BUDGE WINS.

Donald Budge, the California redhead, is the only favorite who has not yet entered the quarter-finals. He arrived here by train this afternoon and a half-hour later stepped out on the courts and polished off Jim Ford. Miami, 6-3, 6-0, in a second-round match. He advanced through the first round on a default by Arley Parmer, of Miami Beach.

Parker, who is figured to meet Budge in the title_round, showed his best form of the tournament in chasting—Duff, 6-0, 6-0. His discredite forehand was his best stroke as he continually forced Duff into errors.
Harris, who is seeded No. 4 despite the fact he is the 1936 titleholder, provided the hest match of the tournament in downing Elwood Cooke, of Los Angeles, Pacific northwest champion. 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. It was a bitter baseline duel, which Harris got the better of as Cooke tired.

GRANT OFF FORM.

Grant, in defeating Vernon Marcum, of Lakeland, played spotty tennis. However, he was not forced to exert himself to win, 6-3, 6-3 triumph over Marion Reese, Atlanta.

Sabin, who meets Budge tomorrow, gained the round of eight with a win from Weston Painter, of Minneapolis, by 7-5, 6-3. Hendrix, the remaining quarter-finalist, defeated Carroll Tur-

MACON, Ga., Jan. 6—(R)—A state-wide movement under sponsorship of the University of Georgia Alumni Society to bring about better balance between agriculture and industry was underway here today.

Preliminary discussions were held at the home of W. D. Anderson, chairman of the board of the Bibb Manufacturing Company and president of the University of Georgia Alumni Society, last night.

AND—Other programs which are famous for not being forgotten by radio listeners appear today. There is Major Bowes' Amateur hour at 8 o'clock tonight. And Kate Smith's "Bandwagon" at 7 o'clock. And the "School of the Air" at 1:15 o'clock and the "March of Time" at 9:30 o'clock.

the University of Georgia Alumni Society, last night.

May 18 and 19 were set as tentative dates for a meeting here for more thorough discussion of the plan, and the possible formation of a state chemurgic council.

Anderson described the plan as designed to promote "sound citizenship" and national welfare rather than to create individual wealth. Science, business and agriculture will combine facilities, he said, to create new domestic and industrial uses for farm products to promote the general welfare.

Similar movements are under discussion in other states those attending last night's meeting said.

Month of Gay Adventure Awaits Popular Debutante Emily Evins

By Sally Forth.

WHILE some debbies are seeking rest at seaside resorts, another V is making her bow in a sister city, and others are planning rest home since the parties are growing fewer, attractive blond Emily Evins is going to gallivant around the country for about a month and have a perfectly wonderful time. The first place for which Emily will be pleasure bound is Quantico, Va., which boasts of a marine base. She leaves in a week to visit her cousins, Captain and Mrs. Thomas Cleland Green, who are popular members of the young army set there. They have arranged a rounce of gay social affairs for their lovely young debutante cousin, to which she will be escorted by dashing young officers, and her visit at the marine post will extend for a week.

From there Emily will drive with her cousin, Mary Green, to Ananchim napolis, where she will be a popular belle attending the week-end dances at the United States Naval Academy. Then into Washington to visit her good friend, Kay Joachim, who returned just recently to her home in Chevy Chase after spending a part of the holiday season here with Emily. Kay enjoyed wide popularity with Atlanta's younger crowd, and she anticipates introducing Emily to Washington's fashionable young set. Of course the highlight of Emily's visit will be the inaugu-ration of President Roosevelt, and as Kay's family has many friends who are prominent in diplomatic circles, they have promised to take the girls to several excluparties during inauguration sive partie

After 10 days of exciting fun in the national capital, Emily will spend another week-end at Annapolis to attend dances. Her tentative plans include a trip to New York after that. Anyway, she will return to Quantico for a few days, and then she and her cousin, Mary, plan to drive down to Columbia, S. C., where they will visit relatives for several days. And then Emily will turn her pretty head homeward.

THE tropical beauty of Havana has lured Louis Corrigan into the midst of winter galeties in the famed Cuban city. and C. J. Sullivan departed last week for Miami, where they boarded the first steamer they could get plying between the Florida and Cuban resorts. Louis is visiting his sister in Havana, whom you remember as Marion Corrigan, an admired Atlanta belle until she married Dr. Henry Pardee Carr several years ago. Since then she has traveled in many parts of the globe, for her husband represents a great American foundation, and his research activities necessitate world-wide travels. For a while the couple even resided in faraway Greece.

Now they are popular mem-bers of the fashionable American set living in Havana, and their apartment in a well-known hotel is a gathering place for their colony of friends. Louis and C. J. arrived in time to attend a perfeetly thrilling New Year's Eve party. It was a progressive affair, and the guests assembled at the home of one of the party, and thence from one house to another, climaxed with a round of night clubs. When the gay affair ended the sun was shining upon the fair city, but Cuba is like that. No one thinks of going home until about 7 o'clock in the morning. This is also the week of sports in Havana, and games and races of every kind take louis and C. J. are spectators at these sporty affairs, and when Louis' grand week's vacation is up he will leave Havana reluctantly, Sally feels sure. His next destination will be wintry New York, where business will keep him for several weeks.

AUTIFUL English calendars, B 1937 style, are in the offing by Mrs. Philip L'Engle, who is taking time from duties as wife, housekeeper and mother of two popular daughters, to aid one of her pet charities — the Egleston Memorial hospital. Fashioned of cream paper, the cover presents an attractive copy of Andrea della Robbia's bambino done in blue and lettered in brown.

Of a nominal price, the proceeds from the sale of the books. which are a combination datebook and calendar, will further aid the carrying on of the splendid work for the hospital done by the woman's auxiliary.

SEVEN years ago Mrs. William Healey lost an exquisite cir-cle of diamonds. After searching in vain, she decided the treasure was lost forever. Not long ago she sent a boudoir chair to an Atlanta upholsterer to be reconditioned. One day the telephone rang, and when Mrs. Healey was called to the phone a man's voice said: "Mrs. Healey, did you lose a diamond circle? I found the brooch in the chair you sent me to upholster." Nor is this the only piece of good luck that recently befell Mrs. Healey. She lost a sapphire and diamond earring and had the good fortune to find it in an ob-scure place in her home on An-

During the time of the Chow dynasty, the borders of China spread far beyond the Yellow river valley. The kingdom grew until it covered most of what we now call "China Proper." We are told that it contained 1,800 cities and villages.

During the Chow period, the farmers raised crops of rice and millet, and also had vegetable gardens and fruit orchards. Many kept livestock, chiefly swine, cattle and sheep.

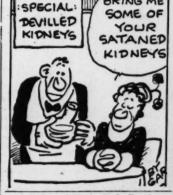

In the homes of the people, there were beds but no chairs or tables. The floors (often made of tiles) were covered with mats. Sometimes the "Henry is past 50, and he's bee a bachelor too long to enjoy bei a bachelor too long to enjoy bein' married. His wife is sure to make him start takin' baths.'

The reducer's menu must necessarily be shy of excess butter, cream, whole milk and other fats, but this also lessens the vitamin A content. The low calorie, high vitamin A foods which the reducer must cultivate are carrots, apricots, spinach, beef liver,

The reducer's menu must necessarily be shy of excess butter, cream, such a diet you lose your looks and temper. A reducing det is a reduced diet, but the cut is in calories colly.

All excess fat represents surplus calories, which must be reconverted into energy in the process of reducing. But, remember, you have no reserve to draw upon for the protective foods, and these must be supplied daily. When you cut calories recklessly, the menu is more than likely to be injuriously low in protein and iron, and lacking in calcium, phosphorus, and the vitamins as essential to health and beauty.

It is quite easy to unbalance your rifet while cutting calories. A prolonged diet deficient in eggs and ment (sources of protein and iron) leaves you was and ill-tempered. It has been said that a cranky woman can be aweetened with a bit of iron. Keep your disposition intact by the inclusion of these foods in the menu: Eggs, meat, green vegetables, and whole grains.

Fruits and vegetables supply minerals, vitamins and beauty. You need at least two fresh fruits, two cooked vegetables and one raw vegetables

Made for Fun and Freedom

Free Action Sleeve

DRESSES

And with a world of distinction besides. The patented underarm seam makes the difference. It permits you to pivot your arms freely and prevents hiking up of skirts. Little wonder that "Free Action Sleeve" dresses are pets of fashion.

"Royal Onlooker." Has pleats all 'round. With contrasting scarf and belt. Sizes 12 to 20-in White, Tunis Blue, Tangier Orange, Sudan Yellow and Morocco $22.95 Other "Free Ac-

Advances Declines Unchanged 920 Total issues

By FREDERICK GARDNER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—Market attention was divided today between the President's message to congress and the autom bile strike and stocks churned through the session without any porticular expirement. without any particular excitement.

The motors stiffened as federal conciliators attempted to settle the labor controversy in this field which has already thrown thousands out of work and threatens to bring further settlement of production.

work and threatens to other future curtailment of production.

Selected oils, utilities, rails and specialties were given an upward push while steels, coppers and many other issues were unable to shake off other issues were unable to shake off minus signs.

The broad outlines of the chief executive's report on the state of the nation were about in line with Wall Street's expectations. Some surprise was shown over the failure of the address to stress the labor situation, but most realized, apparently, this was a matter for further deliberation. Few, if any, market changes were atributed to the speech itself.

STOCK OPINIONS.

COURTS & CO.—It still seems likely that the market will more with caution until lefinite news is available on the labor sit-Mation.

BEER & CO.—Continue to favor a further extension of the rebound in the next day or so.

E. A. PIERCE & CO.—Continued irregularity probable until labor uncertainties are clarified.

FENNER & BEANE—We would expect near-term market movements to depend upon the outcome of automobile labor prob. lems.

THOMSON & McKINNON—While the advantage Wednesday was held by the bulls, the disposition in most stock market quarters continues to proceed in a cautions manner.

COURTS & CO.—We expect a narrow rading market until some additional news of consequence develops.

BEER & CO.—Trading markets anticipated pending definite details on loan cottons rates. pated pending definite details on loan cot-tons release. E. A. PIERCE & CO.—We look for de-relogments of a good trade demand for cot-ton which is to be available for release from ton which is to be available for release from government stocks.

FENNER & BEANE—We believe the tendency of the market is to do better and purchases on dips are advisable.

THOMSON & MCRINNON—We continue to feel the trend is upward and would use easy apost to accumulate cotton.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—With the minimum price at which cotton is to be released from loan stocks acting as a check on declines. confining purchases to reactions would seem advisable. March Liverpool due 6.79.

COURTS & CO.—Insamuch as the gen-ral supply and demand position has not hanged a good class of buring is expected BEER & CO .- We prefer purchases of grains at current levels.

E. A. PIERCE & CO.—We believe it is too early in the season to kill the 1137 winter wheat crop because of dry soil con-

FENNER & BEANE-We doubt if a big ket over a fair range appears in prospec-near by.

DOBS & CO.—If there is to be a paus-ing demand and larger movement from ex-porting countries some lower prices could result.

COTTONSEED OIL FENNER & BEANE—Some uneasiness is felt due to the nevailing idea that there will be profit-taking some time between now and the consumption report.

RUBBARD BROS. & CO. TO DOBBS & CO. We think cottonseed oil market will be quiet and steady next few days with unward fendency since fundamentals for nigher prices unchanged.

E. A. PIERCE & CO.—Cash news continues to indicate easier feeling and not finding ready takers except at concessions.

were taken in hand principally on the ground that earnings prospects are brightening.

Hopeful midweek surveys of the steel industry were virtually ignored by this department in view of the thought that mill operations, while currently at a high rate, may be crimped substantially later if the automotive conflict hangs on for any length of time.

Analysts saw further public participation in stocks developing. It was noted that, of the 20 most active shares of the day, 14 were quoted under $20.

Up fractions to 2 points or so were Chrysler at 115 1-4, General Motors 63 3-4, Alfied Chemical 230 1-2, Barnsdall 29 3-8, Continental Oil 44, Amerada 108 1-4, International Mining 18 1-2, American Power & Light 13 3-4, Cerro De Pasco 72 1-2, Santa 28 1-2, American Power & Light 13 3-4, Cerro De Pasco 72 1-2, Santa 5-6 73 1-4, Union Pacific 129, New York Central 41 3-8, American Water Works 26 5-8, Goodyear 28 5-8 and J. Extra dividends by H. L. Green Company and Macy brought support for these stocks. The former was up 1 at 36 1-2 and the latter advanced 11-2 at 52 1-2.

Down as much as a point or more were United States Steel at 76 3-8, Bethlehem 74 1-2, Westinghouze 11 1-2 at 52 1-1.

By STEPHEN DICKINSON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—Bids trickled back into the bond market near the close today and prices closed even to a little higher after an indifferent performance most of the ses-ferent performance most of the session.

Groupwise, rails, utilities, foreigns and low yields were about all square on the day, the Associated Press averages for each standing unaltered from Tuesday's levels. Industrials improved 1 of a point to 104.1.

If the President's message to congress, released near the close, had any effect it operated to give the market a moderate lift in the final 30 minutes. Prices were down a little when the financial tickers started to print their digests of the document.

In the carrier division several pronounced swings were recorded. New Haven 6s gained 1 3-8 to 65 and the debenture 4s moved up 3 to 41 1-4. Gains of 3 or more were shown by Norfolk & Southern 5s and certificates, while the Mobile & Ohio 4 1-2s and 5s were but slightly less buoyant. Counter trends were less pronounced.

and be were but sugnity less aboyant. Counter trends were less pronounced. U. S. governments closed lower, although net losses were well above the lows of the day. Setbacks ranged to 7-32 of a point, while earlier in the session several issues were off 11-32.

Foreigns moved narrowly and closed slightly uneven.
Transactions for all bonds totaled $15,172.000, face value, compared with $15,331,000 Tuesday.

Repeal, Sales Taxation and Gas Executions Top General Slate.

By the Associated Press.

Prohibition repeal, sales taxation lethal gas execution and varied other issues marched to the fore yesterday in Montgomery, Frankfort and Raleigh as state legislatures moved steadily into their allotted law-making tasks. The ways and means committee o

The ways and means committee of the Alabama house adjourned last night until today without voting upon a 2 per cent general sales tax bill, which brought hundreds of protests and a few indorsements at a hectic all-day hearing.

A forecast of the impending fight tomorrow in the senate over prohibition repeal was seen today as a marcher appeared in the house gallery during the tax fight carrying a harder appeared in the house gathery during the tax fight carrying a banner depicting the figure of Christ and carrying the message: "When you vote for liquor you turn your back on the Prince of Peace. God is not mocked."

The Kentucky house of representa-tives meanwhile forced first reading for the jailer-sheriff consolidation act repeal bill, refused to table the milk control measure, requested Governor Chandler to amend his call to make a primary compulsory for selection of congressional nominee in the second district, and passed two bills.

North Carolina's biennial general assembly opened and received bills to "reform" elections and to substitute electricity for lethal gas in legal expectation.

Casting aside the precedent of marking time until the governor-elect has delivered his inaugural address. the house buckled down to business, and the senate completed its organization, which was facilitated by ap-pointments made at the special ses-sion in December which passed an unemployment compensation law.

Can a man find contentment mar-ried to a woman who has been talked about? I am a middle-aged widower who lost his wife three years ago and have two grown children. I have seen a great deal of a widow who used to live next door to me and my wife. For a year we have been having many companionable hours together and re-cently had decided to try marriage a second time. Friends seeing that we were getting serious have warned me that if I married her I might be sorry because she didn't walk the straight path but was a good time girl for any-body. This hit me hard and got me to the point of trying to forget her. I can't see how she or I would get much happiness out of marriage when my suspicions have been aroused by what I have heard and I can't see that there is any reason for me to

I trust you will be able to straighten me out as I am all upset.

ONE IN NEED. Answer:

Surely you should give your close friend as much consideration as the court gives the criminal, an opportunity to prove her innocence of the charges you have heard made against her. It is true, isn't it, that the law assumes a person innocent until her or she is proven guilty? Naturally you shrink from the encounter which will be painful, dread the tears and talk that must come, but you shouldn't permit your feelings in the matter to work an injustice on the widow. Usually speaking where there's smoke there's fire; yet, it is equally true that gossip gather momentum as it goes. gossip gather momentum as it goes. Slight indescretions committed by a widow may, when bandied about from tongue to tongue, become indecencies. Thereafter, her reputation isn't worth much in the marriage market.

faith and confidence. Yet, a man who has got to the point of asking a woman to be his wife certainly shouldn't stand her up without giving her an opportunity to defend herself against the charges other people have brought against her. It isn't just nor is it merciful and most of us in this life need justice and mercy at the hands of our dear ones.

CENTERS ON CONTESTS AS MEMBERS ARRIVE

Races for Speaker Pro Tem. and Senate Secretaryship Take Spotlight.

Two major contests marked pre-session conferences as members of the general assembly began to converge upon Atlanta yesterday for the opening of their biennial session Monday. As the time for settlement drew near the contests became rather heated, the major development of the day being the withdrawal of Representative Pat Campbell, of Newton county, from the race for speaker pro tem, of the house of representatives.

Campbell wa sone of four contestants for the post. He withdrew in favor of Representative John Parker, of Colquitt county. Others remaining in the race are Representatives William A. Leonard, of Muscogee, and John V. Booth, of Barrow.

The second contest, which to most observers is taking the spotlight at present, is the race for secretary of the state second.
